by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Extra drive plus common sense bring career gains. Despite a run-in with a friend, social prospects brighten after dark. Charm and friendliness enhance your position with higher-ups. Legal affairs are in your favor. Make plans for a vacation.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Judgment is good on the job and you'll have luck in establishing extra credit. Evening hours favor romance and leisure activities. You're not tongue-tied now when it comes to expressing romantic sentiments. Love flourishes, and home entertaining is a joy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Financial gain is likely. You'll accomplish more than usual at work. Later, you'll enjoy relaxing moments with a loved one. You may take up a new hobby or derive extra pleasure from an existing one. Don't be timid. Make the first move in romance.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Unexpected news comes from a relative. After clearing up odds and ends at home, you should go out for a night on the town. It's a busy time with much gadding about and many phone messages. After dark favors private moments with your nearest and dearest.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Buying something on a lay-away plan is favored. Still, cut down on cash outlay. Social life surpasses your expectations tonight. Don't be a stick in the mud. Sign up for a course of study or plan a trip. Doing something new enlivens your spirit.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Private business meetings are favored. You may be drawn romantically to someone from afar or of a different background. Many friends get in touch with you today. Luncheon dates are favored, but later you'll want some time for yourself.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Disappointment about a job concern shouldn't keep you from taking a chance on today's new offerings. A trip may be postponed. Don't brood about a problem. Keep the doors of communication open and a settlement will be reached. Try new work techniques.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A family member may voice disapproval about a romantic interest. Make those domestic changes you've been contemplating. A new idea is worth pursuing, but now you may easily become discouraged. Don't give up at the first sign of an obstacle.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A financial worry shouldn't keep you from taking advantage of an offer for a good time. An unexpected invitation may arrive. You may be too much of a disciplinarian at home base. Fellow club members will appreciate your take-charge attitude. Speak up.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Self-doubt is your chief obstacle now. Take a chance on a new project. Be close-mouthed about recent career developments. An object you thought valueless may be worth more than you think. Friends are deaf to requests now. Don't ask favors.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Don't approach higher-ups with new ideas yet. Still, you can continue to work on your presentation. New friends come into your life. Some early morning blues will dissipate once you share your thoughts with others. An unlooked-for opportunity arises.

Many readers have asked about Refundle Bundle, a refund publication. I've now gotten two copies. This is just my "personal opinion," but I still find Moneytalk and Roadrunner Refunder to be better publications for true refunders.

Refundle Bundle is fine for beginners. It does contain a lot of information. It does list forms, and has a small trading section. I find it contains too much chit-chat information and ads to purchase things — more so than the other refund papers. When I order a refund paper I want to know about the many forms that are available, and I also look for a large trading section and no repeats on the forms listed. All three papers have good reputations and are a good source of information. My personal favorite is Moneytalk. Below are the addresses and places of all three publications.

REFUNDLE BUNDLE, P.O. Box 141, Centuck Station, Yonkers, N.Y. 10710. Published bimonthly. One year (six issues) $9.

ROADRUNNER REFUNDER-RL, 6535 W. Ellis Levine, Ariz. 85330. Published monthly. One year (12 issues) $14.

MONEYTALK, P.O. Box 1677, Kingston, Pa. 18704. Published monthly. One year (12 issues) $10.

Here are this week's offers:

Entertainment Extra by Evelyn

Q. Could you please tell us if there have been any further developments about a movie featuring the life and times of Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz? Rachael & Mike C.

A. Yes. "I Love Lucy" began with a simple idea. Lucille Ball wanted to keep a close eye on her "Babalu"-singing husband, Desi Arnaz, who was playing more than just the bongos with other women in Hollywood.

"It was this fear that he had that led to the birth of one of the most historic television shows," said Larry Thompson, who is producing a TV biography for CBS about Lucy and Desi. "She wanted to keep an eye on him."

Desi, Thompson said, did indeed love his Lucy. "Basically it was a distinction in cultures," he said. "Desi was born in Cuba, very macho, very sexy. It was one of the aspects of his personality. It was very painful for them."

The film will cover the comedy couple from the time they met in 1940 at MGM to the premiere of "I Love Lucy" in 1951. The movie will not touch upon Desi's battle with alcohol, or Lucy's subsequent battle with the bottle.

"It's not that we are going to cover up anything," he said. "The film is going to be done with a sense of balance, which in the end will make you like these people very much. Nothing we do will destroy the images people have of them. You'll love them just as you did before, but in, perhaps, a more humane way."

Thompson and CBS are not looking for just any actor or actress to play Lucy and Desi. An old-fashioned Hollywood talent hunt is being launched, and the network will hold an open casting call at CBS Television City. Shooting is expected to start later this summer.

Thompson said he prefers unknown actors, rather than turn to better-known performers, because the faces of Lucy and Desi are etched into the TV psyche of the world. But no one will be ruled out. "I want to have people who can perform and not impersonate," he said.

It's no secret that the film, "Lucy & Desi: Before the Laughter," is not the official biography of Lucy and Desi. The family, while not pleased with the revelations, has no plans to raise a protest or try to stop the production. Even so, the life of Lucy and Desi is in the public domain and even after their deaths, they remain the most public of public figures, thanks to the success of their TV series.

Thompson emphasized again, "This is not going to be 'Lucy and Desi Dearest.'"

One thing that will emerge is the business acumen of Arnaz, who pioneered the use of three cameras to film a sitcom, which became the mainstay of the TV industry. In addition, Arnaz's decision to use film and not broadcast a live program preserved "I Love Lucy" for generations after it was cancelled. He created the rerun.

The laughter during each episode was recorded from a studio audience, rather than a mechanical laugh track, as had been the norm. Arnaz's skill as a TV executive at Desilu helped him create such hits as "Our Miss Brooks," "Private Secretary," "December Bride," "Desilu Playhouse" and "The Untouchables."

"Desi," said Thompson, "was the brain behind 'I Love Lucy.'"

Q. I've been a fan of Robert Lupone for a long time, and I wish he was back on some soap somewhere. I think any soap he's on is great. Has he stopped doing soaps altogether, and what else is he doing? Also, would you please tell me if that's his wife who stars on "Life Goes On?" Judy B.

A. Patti Lupone, who is one of Broadway's big stars ("Evita," "Anything Goes," etc.), is Robert's sister. Robert does the occasional soap appearance, and is busy with his theater company in New York. He often has other soap stars appearing in his productions.

Q. I've enjoyed seeing some of the reruns of "Beauty & the Beast." Is it true that Linda Hamilton left the show to retire from the business so she could raise her baby? If so, I respect her wishes, but I would miss seeing her again. Also, what is Ron Perlman doing? Florence B.

A. Linda wanted to spend at least a year with her new baby, but she's ready to return to work now. She's scheduled to reteam with Arnold Schwarzenegger in the sequel to their successful film, "Terminator." So far there's no title for the second one, but whatever they call it, most of us will probably call it "Terminator 2." Ron, who played Vincent on the show, is winding up a stint in the hit Broadway play "A Few Good Men."

Q. We're "Guiding Light" fans with three questions we'd like to have you answer: Are they ever going to bring back the character of Alan Spaulding on "The Guiding Light?" Will Daniel Pilon play it again? Also, wasn't Michael Zaslow's character, Roger, killed by Alan? Thanks for answering. Dorothy, Ellen, Myrna

A. Yes, the character of Alan Spaulding will be back, but it's not been determined that Daniel Pilon will reprise the role. He was brought in when the original Alan, the late Chris Bernau, became too ill to continue playing the role. At that time, Pilon told us that he had no plans to continue with the character beyond a certain point because of film and TV commitments. Circumstances may have changed now for Pilon, which would permit him to play the role again if the producers decide that's how they want to go. As for Roger — yes indeed, he was "killed" by Alan (Christopher Bernau), and, yes, indeed, he fully intended to stay killed, but there was sufficient interest in Roger to bring him back for a trial run — and when that trial proved successful, he was officially resurrected in the grand tradition of the miracle of the soap genre.

Home hints

COFFEE MAKER LIGHT — My husband is an electrician and is very conscious of electrical shorts in small appliances.

One Sunday we came home from church and our whole house smelled of burned coffee. You probably guessed it — I forgot to unplug my automatic coffee maker. I remedied that mistake in a hurry by plugging in a night light in the same plug the coffee maker is plugged into.

When the coffee maker is turned on, the night light is turned on, and when we are through with our morning coffee, the coffee maker and the night light are turned off.

That really helps me remember and I've had no more problems with burned coffee pots or worse. Louise T., San Jose, Calif.

DOLL COLLECTORS — This hint is for doll collectors or those who just like to display a few of their favorite dolls.

I like to take up the least amount of space possible as I display my dolls with small bodies and full skirts using a wide-mouth mayonnaise jar. The doll's body stands up in the jar and the skirt is pulled to the outside where the jar acts as a great skirt hoop.

I have found that any size jar that will accommodate the doll's body will work. Jan W., Winchester, Va.

Paint & Household

Q. I read your column in my local newspaper, and I thought you could help me. I have two concrete patios, and they are very dirty from the rain and the awnings over them. What can I use to clean them up? M.D.

A. This situation is ideal for powerwashing. Although you can do it yourself, you'll wish you hadn't. Powerwashing is generally affordable and will get the cement looking like new and keep it looking good for years to come. We do a large amount of powerwashing in our business and I have found cement patios to be the most successful.

On the other hand, if you choose to tackle the patios yourself, hose them down first, and pour household bleach over it. Vigorously brush the bleach into the cement, let sit for a while, then hose it down again. It may sound simple. However, according to most of my customers, they wish they had called me in the first place. As with everything else, get a few estimates as prices vary.

Q. Recently, you replied about preparing a formica finish for paint. I lost the article, and I would appreciate the information. E.M.K.

A. This is a frequently asked question that bears repeating from time to time. Formica is sometimes tricky to paint because of its smooth finish that does not give paint something to grab onto (tooth). You can either give the finish tooth by lightly sanding the formica in a circular motion, but it's possible that the sanding marks may be visible after the finish is applied.

I prefer liquid sandpaper to de-gloss shiny smooth surfaces, in addition to cleaning the surface. Once done, use a slow, good oil base primer and apply at least two coats to achieve opacity. If you plan to put a gloss finish on the formica and want the surface to look like glass, then lightly sand between coats, and rub with a tack cloth.

Follow the directions on the can as to the appropriate times to wait between coats.

Q. What is Durand glass?

A. Victor Durand made art glass from 1924 to 1931 in Vineland, N.J. Most of his glass was similar to the iridescent gold glass of Tiffany. It was almost never marked. The Durand pieces can be identified by the leaflike decorations in the glass.

Q. What is the difference between Georgian and Hepplewhite chairs?

A. Georgian describes a period of time in England. It began in 1714, when George I became king, and lasted to 1830, which was the end of the reign of George IV. Collectors prefer to identify furniture from the period by the names of the best known designers, such as Chippendale, Sheraton or Hepplewhite. A chair can be Georgian and Hepplewhite. If the piece has a square open back, rectangular legs and a light-colored painted surface, it could also be called "classical revival."
